*Going to one service in July has resulted in positive comments from our volunteers (LEM, Lay Readers, Altar Guild, Communion Bread bakers). The Vestry decided to extend our ONE 9:30 am through Aug. 12. We will return to two services at 8:00 am and 10:30 am on Aug. 19. Here are some comments we've received:

- "I liked combined service; more than just 4 times a year; getting to know more folks through worshipping together; more cohesive congregation; starting at 9:30 instead of 9:15; healing prayer stations; Prayers of the People from the pews without a book; Announcements at the end and shorter; Keeping to one hour-ish; Combined coffee hour."
- "I like having different styles of service, but maybe a new one every week was not our best plan, but was a good start."
- "I didn't like Procession, etc., one week but not the next. It's confusing for lots of folks. I'm not sure if I like the Collect of Purity to be silent beforehand; many folks are talking before the service, and this brings folks together in community spoken prayer."
- Several people have expressed appreciation for the one-hour service.
- "It does feel like people are recharging a bit."
- Several people said they were surprised how much they enjoyed the 8:00 am style worship service and requested that we do it again for combined services (including music from Charlotte and Mary).
- "Personally I like the 9:30 time. It's not too early or late."
- "I like seeing everyone! I always enjoy the combined services."
- "July 29 was lively and fun."
- "I have mixed feelings about the healing prayers near the apricot window. I like the setting and the more private prayer."
- "I liked having the announcements at the end." In fact, several people said that they appreciate the announcements later in the service -- more people are there to hear them, toward the end of worship when they're getting ready to leave, shorter is better.
- A couple people shared that when the announcements came at the end it felt abrupt and interrupting the flow of worship.
- "I actually have enjoyed this, and I feel like this makes everything less chaotic."
- Several people appreciated the Bidding Prayers of the People with a sung response. "Encourage folks to wear their name tags. Since it's a mixed crowd, lots of folks don't know each other."
- "I liked the chanting by the priest—beautiful voice. Put some paper and pens by the liturgy boxes."
